Congressman Paul Rogers To Be Honored in Clewiston

Paul G. Rogers, United States Representative from the 9th Congressional District of Florida will be honored at a dinner to be held at the Clewiston Inn, Clewiston, Florida, Tuesday, December 20, at 7:00 o'clock p.m.

According to the Florida Sugar Cane League which is sponsoring the "Dutch Treat" affair, Congressman Rogers was helpful in obtaining sugar legislation in 1965 which was very beneficial to the Florida sugar industry. In addition, he has worked for the sugar industry, as well as for the other agricultural interests of the Glades Area and Florida as a whole, in trying to insure that adequate labor is made available for the production and harvesting of crops.

"We want to express our appreciation to Congressman Rogers for his past efforts in our behalf," explained Harry T. Naughton, Sr., President of the Florida Sugar Cane League.

Prior to the redistricting in 1965, Rogers who is a native of West Palm Beach, represented the 6th district. The new 9th district, which he now represents, is composed of Charlotte, Collier, Glades, Hendry, Indian River, Lee, Martin, Okeechobee, Palm Beach, and St. Lucie counties. Agriculture is a vital part of the economy of all these counties and in many is the predominant business. Sugar cane is grown in Palm Beach, Glades, and Hendry counties and this industry is the leading enterprise in all three counties. The value of the 1965-66 sugar cane crop was estimated at almost $90,000,000. In the last 5 years the sugar cane industry in Florida has grown by more than 350 percent and in the last two years has produced more sugar than Louisiana. More than 13,000 people are employed during the peak season by the 9 factories and 180 sugar cane farms.

Arrangements for the dinner are being made by a committee of the League composed of Bill Lanier, U. S. Sugar Corporation, Clewiston, Florida, Bob Lee, Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Belle Glade, Florida, and Nelson Fairbanks, Florida Sugar Cane League. A limited number of tickets are available to the general public and may be purchased at the offices of either of the above persons.

Burn Your Headlights!

All motorists in the Glades are urged to keep their headlights on when driving through rain, fog or smoke. There are times when visibility is almost zero when sugar cane fields are burned and smoke blankets the highways. With many harvest trucks on our highways, all drivers are requested to use extreme care when driving by night and during the early hour of morning when fog causes traffic problems and accidents.

Rotarians To Aid Salvation Army Drive

Members of Rotary Club will man the Christmas Contributions Kettles for the Salvation Army in Belle Glade on Friday, December 23rd. Fourteen Rotarians will serve one hour each in two hour shifts from ten in the morning until five o'clock with two men on duty throughout the period.

The Salvation Army serves approximately 350 Glades families during the year and is active in the Wee Care Center work.

Plans for Rotary participation were made last Friday at the regular Rotary luncheon where George Young was appointed leader of the project.

Approximately forty members of the Puerto Rican Sugarcane Technologists' Association, Florida area observing operations on the island of Puerto Rico spent December 6 to 8 observing operations in the sugarcane area of Florida. These men are leaders in their respective fields of sugarcane production, milling or other sugarcane operations and were observing the new systems being used in Florida. The labor situation for cutting and handling cane in Puerto Rico is very critical at this time and these men were looking for new labor-saving techniques. They arrived in Florida on December 6 with the four being arranged by Dudley Smith, Executive Vice-President of the Association of Sugar Producers of Puerto Rico in Washington. The trip was arranged through the Florida industry and especially the U. S. Sugar Corporation and the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida.

The group spent Wednesday, December 7 in the Clewiston, Florida area observing operations on the U. S. Sugar Corporation property. They were shown harvesting and handling techniques as well as the milling operations.

On Thursday, the group toured other sugar activities and toured the Sugarcane Harvesting Investigations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The work at Belle Glade on mechanical harvesting was presented to them and field machines employing new principles of harvesting were shown. Following the trip to the Sugarcane Harvesting Laboratory, the group visited the

8th Street Bridge Opened To Traffic

Good news to Glades residents is the opening on Tuesday of this week of the new 8th Street bridge from SR 80 over the Hillsboro Canal to East Canal St. N. at the intersection of SR 80 and East Avenue E.

Belle Glade City Commissioners voted favoring the immediate opening of the bridge at their regular commission session Monday night, despite the fact that the traffic light has not yet been installed at the site. Signs ordering traffic to slow have been put in place on the heavy traffic intersection.

City Manager Tevis Hugely explained that the power cable for the light is due in any day and it will require from two to three days to install the light after the cable arrives. Meantime, motorists are urged to observe every precaution in leaving or entering highway 80 over the new structure.

For many years the Main Street bridge over the Hillsboro canal was the only road crossing in the city. Within the heavy growth span of the past few years, the SR 715 bridge at Chosen, the second street bridge and the bridge at 5th street have been built at intervals, greatly relieving traffic congestion.

Completion of the new bridge which was started late in the summer has been slowed waiting for steel to be delivered. Murphy Construction Company built the structure at an approximate cost of $34,000.

In other action at the Monday night meeting the commission authorized the city manager to have additional lights installed on SW Avenue E. The present 7,000 Lumen Mercury Vapor lights will be increased to 11,000 Lumen. In addition 27 new 11,000 Lumen Mercury Vapor lights will be installed.

No Serious Injuries Result From So. Bay Explosion

L-R — Joyce Singletary, Earl Hawkins, Walter Curtis Wicheard, Sam Smith and Elroy Coleman stand in front of the worst of the three apartments in which they lived which was blown out in an explosion about seven p.m. Sunday night. The cause of the explosion is not known.

A Sunday night explosion of undetermined origin blew out the north wall and blew holes in the roof, destroying a four unit apartment building on Joe Louis Ave., South Bay, leaving four families homeless.

Seven persons suffered minor injuries in the blast. Injured in the explosion that apparently occurred in the unoccupied apartment of Walter E. Chen was Mrs. Sherry Mae Smith and her five children, Sammie Lee, Willie James, Marjorie, Iris, and Calvin Smith and Mrs. Elroy Coleman. They were partially buried by debris in the aftermath of the blast that destroyed the frame and stucco structure.

All were treated at Glades General Hospital and were found to have slight hair, minor cuts and bruises and were released.

Police Chief D. R. Pugh and the State Fire Marshal's Office are conducting an investigation into the mysterious blast. E. Earl Kieftler, deputy marshal assigned to the L. P. gas division of the state office and Deputy Marshal Spencer Groves, an explosives expert, checked the ruins of the building in which the explosion occurred.

The blast rocked the crowded area that houses many permanent residents as well as migrant farm workers. The blast was heard more than a half mile from the scene, which knocked items off the shelves in a grocery store next door.

The building, which had recently been renovated was owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Griffin of Belle Glade. The Griffins expressed thanks and appreciation to the South Bay Police Dept., South Bay Fire Dept., Sheriff's Dept., and Belle Glade Ambulance Service for the speed and efficient service with which they controlled the area after the blast. Griffin made arrangements to refund their renters their rent money immediately following the blast so they could attempt to find new quarters.

Present information according to officials indicates that the blast may have been caused by an accumulation of gas inside the walls of the building.

A written report of findings from the two deputy fire marshals is expected soon, according to South Bay Police Chief Ray D. Pugh.

Luther Line, 83 Found Dead In South Bay Home

Funeral arrangements for William Luther Line, 83-year-old long time South Bay resident, were incomplete at Herald press time, pending word from relatives.

Mr. Line, who had lived alone at his NW Canal Street home in South Bay for many years, apparently was retiring for the night when he fell from a chair to the floor, according to Patrolman J. B. Gurganous and Detective Richard Bakker of the Sheriff's office who investigated the death.

The Robert Stokes family of South Bay, believed to be related to the deceased, were in Titlow, Georgia where they had gone to pick up their son, Wayne, and could not be immediately contacted. A nephew, Walter Line of Indianapolis, Indiana was being contacted Wednesday by Misson funeral home who will handle arrangements.

Mr. Line was born in Marion County, Indiana, April 9, 1884.

Most of this group were already familiar with some of the Florida operations and this trip allowed them to study the operations in greater depth. The cooperation between the various sugar producing areas was stressed in the meetings during the week and the co-operation between Louisiana, Florida, Puerto Rico and Hawaii was especially emphasized. For instance, the Sugarcane Breeding work at Canal Point benefits Louisiana, Florida and Puerto Rico about equally. The Sugarcane Harvesting Research is also concerned with problems applicable to the four areas.

City Water Consumption Increases

MR. HARVEY M. MATHEWS Water Treatment Plant Supervisor for the Belle Glade

Harvey Mathews, Water Treatment Supervisor of the Belle Glade Water Plant reports that packhouse activity has increased the consumption of water by about half a million gallons per day during the past month. The largest requirement is ordinarily during February, March and April when over two million gallons per day are required.

The operation of the Quality Oat Company furfural plant will require an additional million gallons per day when they start operations sometime next year.

The city has not officially accepted the new pumping station recently constructed about two miles out in the lake though water from that source is now being used. Mr. Mathews reports a noticeable difference in the processing of water from the lake intake but the real value of this source will be apparent when farm pumps are removing water from fertilized fields.

Pumps at the new intake station are sufficient to supply over ten million gallons of water per day. Present plant capacity is only a little over 3 million per day.

Cremas of Rev. and Mrs. John W. Shaw and family from Saturday until Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Widener of St. Cloud.

Jack Price from Ft. Lauderdale is working here this week at the Southern Ry. office, while H. T. Moore is in Jacksonville. Jack was here with this office about eight years ago.

Garden Club's Annual Party Is Gay And Festive Affair

The Belle Glade Garden Club, due to a change in plans, held their annual Christmas party at the Community Civic Center instead of at the Club House in McDonald Park as originally planned, on the evening of December 8th at 7:30 General Chairman for the party was Mrs. E. R. Gay.

Table decorations by Mrs. L. C. Williams were festive and very beautiful. The head table was covered with a green cloth overlaid by one of white net and lace with appliques of red and white. Centering the table was an arrangement of red feather flowers flanked on either side by brass candelabras each containing three red candles. Scattered the length of the two side tables, covered with white cloth, were green Christmas balls, green poinsettia leaves, and golden slipper filled with frosted white fern and golden balls.

The Christmas tree was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Milton Bracken, Mrs. F. C. Fessenden and Mrs. F. C. Fessenden.

Christmas corsages, made by Mrs. Fessenden, were presented to the speaker and entertainers.

Mrs. Della Altman asked the blessing, and members and several very welcome guests sat down to a delicious dinner of turkey, dressing, and gilet prepared by our superb, active cook, and member, Mrs. E. N. Gaskell. President, presided and invited members to introduce their guests. She welcomed all to the party and called upon Mrs. J. P. Haddock, Jr., in the absence of the Vice-President, to introduce entertainers Kathryn Jane Smith and Alice Haddock who honored the group with Christmas music performed nicely and quite expertly on the piano.

Mrs. Mary E. Shea, District 10 Chairman of World Gardening from West Palm Beach, and a guest of Mrs. Gaskell, was introduced by her to the group. Mrs. Shea gave a very interesting and amusing talk on her experiences as a World Gardener, explaining the meaning of "World Gardening" which is the cultivation of the people of other countries, winning understanding and liking for us from them, as well as extending material help to them. She encouraged us to correspond with the women of other countries, exchanging ideas and getting to know and trust each other. She reminded us that women are more or less the same the world over.

Following the entertainment was a gift exchange for all present. Members and guests enjoyed themselves so much that sense of time was forgotten, and no one seemed anxious to have this special event come to a close. This is a meeting that brings out the best in members who work and cannot attend daytime meetings, and all felt with a deep sense of togetherness, thankfulness for the freedom and plenty we enjoy in our own country, and with feelings of kinship and happiness in again sharing in the Spirit of Christmas.

Exit The Lieutenant

Florida almost had a lieutenant governor. Before ever taking office, he died of definition-deficiency.

What happened was that the Florida Constitution Revision Commission voted to create the office, got bogged down in argument over what his duties and cabinet status should be, and finally voted to eliminate him.

Sen. John McCarty, who introduced the constitutional amendment, said the lieutenant governor should be the state's No. 2 man, behind only the governor, and relieve him of some of the pressures of governorship — such as attending social functions and ceremonies so far, so good.

It also was agreed that the lieutenant should be next in line should the governor be unable to serve, followed by the secretary of state and the attorney general. Then came the stumbling block.

An amendment to the amendment was offered providing that the new official be a non-cabinet member. As such, said opponents, he would be useless to the governor and just an unnecessary additional expense to the state. So the almost lieutenant governor was voted out of office.

Behind these maneuvers lies the explosive issue of just how much power the governor should have under Florida's proposed new constitution.

Gov.-elect Claude Kirk said he was pleased with the commission's preliminary decision, feeling that addition of a lieutenant governor would help strengthen the governor's hand in running state government.

Obviously it would, if — as proposed by Rep. Donald Reed — the governor and lieutenant governor run as a team, and if the lieutenant governor became a voting member of the state cabinet. In effect, this would give the governor two votes on cabinet decisions. His power at present is exactly equal to that of the other cabinet members.

There is a strong faction within the charter-drafting body which favors down-grading the cabinet system and establishing a "strong governor" form of government. But it is not likely to prevail.

Florida's unique cabinet system certainly has its faults, but on the whole it has proved quite successful over the past 80 years. One reason, as pointed out by former State School Supt. Col. English, is that its elected members have wide qualifications and experience.

All cabinet members except the governor can succeed themselves, and usually do. Thus a continuity of government is provided not found in most other states.

In some respects, a stronger governor might prove beneficial. Unilateral executive decisions probably would be the most efficient, if not the only way, to eliminate the waste of overlapping functions in Florida's sprawling board and commission network.

But until better evidence is presented we will go along with English, who finds it difficult to understand why "some people believe that one individual, the governor, who might sometimes have wide governmental experience but at other times might not, is more qualified to conduct the business of the state than the seven members of the cabinet, one of which is the governor."

Pearce Appointment

Gov.-elect Claude Kirk's appointment of former State Sen. B. C. Pearce as administrative director of finances and taxation raised some eyebrows as well as a few questions.

The fact that Pearce is a Democrat while Kirk is a Republican is of no particular significance. Talent is where you find it; and Pearce, who served as finance and taxation committee chairman of the Florida Senate for many years, unquestionably is highly knowledgeable in that field.

Principal surprise in his appointment is the fact that Pearce is an old-line "Fork Chopper" who played a leading role in many of the small-county bloc's successful battles with the under-represented urban areas. It could add to Gov. Kirk's problem of coping with a re-apportioned legislature which is now urban-dominated, as well as predominantly Democratic.

Among his fellow legislators, Pearce had the reputation of being a staunch fiscal conservative; an advocate of the status quo rather than of tax reform. More recently, as chairman of an interim legislative committee on taxation, he was quoted as saying that new taxes in 1967 were a "probability" rather than a "possibility."

In his new post, the veteran legislator probably will find it necessary to reclassify new taxes as an "improbability" to conform to the policies of the new governor. Kirk says his pledge of no new taxes still stands, and Pearce says he will try to help carry out that commitment.

Whatever his present feeling may be on the subject, Pearce's 20 years in the legislature should be of help in trimming the fat from proposed appropriations. He undoubtedly knows where some of the monetary leaks are.

We do hope, though, that Gov. Kirk will not be influenced by one of Sen. Pearce's ideas for raising new state revenue — a state lottery. Last summer Pearce said he would push for the sweepstakes study as soon as possible, theorizing that it could bring as much as $150 million a biennium.

Attractive as it may sound, the state should and must keep out of the gambling business. A state lottery is still a tax, whatever you choose to call it. It is a tax levied on the suckers — usually those who can least afford it.

State finance and taxation is a weighty and intricate subject and Gov. Kirk will need all the help he can get on it. The Pearce appointment may be a step in the right direction. He will have the good wishes of Floridians of all political persuasions.

A Dangerous Trend

A United States Senator, speaking at a meeting of public administrators studying the "new federalism," expressed the belief that state government is turning into an administrative arm of the federal government. This is simply another way of saying that the expanding philosophy of centralized government is displacing the traditional American system of local, state and federal authority. One of the main reasons, it appears, for the decline of the states is their alleged inability to tackle "modern problems."

It is little wonder that the states are declining in importance as the day approaches when they become merely dispensers of federal government handouts.

Such things as states' rights and local initiative will inevitably disappear as control of the purse strings pass to Washington. It is the old story of he who pays the piper calls the tune. It is not too long a step from the loss of independence at state and local governmental levels, to the loss of individual freedom, itself.

Human Events reports: "The second session of the 89th Congress racked up appropriations of $145 billion — the highest spending level since the World War II peak of $147 billion..."

THUNDERHEADS ON THE HORIZON

PUBLIC'S STAKE IN LABOR NEGOTIATIONS

"You can't have your cake and eat it too" is a homely philosophy which underlies all labor-management bargaining. And coming months will prove it again.

All signs point to thunderheads on the horizon with major union contracts expiring in 1967. Pacing industries—autos, machinery, meatpacking, rubber and trucking—will face some hard bargaining in the next few months.

A Pandora's box of new demands is expected. Whatever shade of political opinion they represent, new Washington legislators, in checking with their constituents, will find that a growing number of voters believe that unions should be more strictly regulated.

It is not only the inconvenience of strikes which is bothering people; but the growing awareness that union power can force economic wage increases without a strike, with consequent upward pressure on prices.

We are prone to correct the symptoms instead of the causes in labor-management relations. What the AMA cautions the untrained labor situation is to refine and reform laws which govern collective bargaining.

Views of the Editors

FOREST CITY, N. C., COURIER: "Your doctor says, 'Take a walk.' Take a long walk, every day, if you can find the time. Any sort of walking is good, but a brisk walk is better. Walking or hiking is an excellent exercise that involves many of the muscles of the body. One of its big advantages is that walking is universally available as an exercise nearly every day of the year. The strain of the activity depends on the pace and distance... The AMA cautions the untrained person against an exercise orgy in hiking or in any other vigorous physical activity. The enthusiast who tries to do it all at once often ends up with stiff muscles and a stiffer resolve to avoid exercise in the future."

COLUMBIA, TENN., HERALD: "We should remember that work continues to be indispensable to man's security, well-being and growth. This is no less true for the disabled and handicapped than for those of us who are more fortunate. Our society has prospered because it offers to all the hope of achieving fullness of life. Therefore, the handicapped should not be isolated — we cannot afford this. We cannot afford to stifle the fulfillment of their legitimate desires."

There is nothing morally wrong about being poor.

Health is very valuable to those who have lost it.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle reported to the fellers at the country store Saturday night he has come up with a plan to cut his worries in half. Up to now, said Ed, he had been worrying about what was going to happen to the young generation, along with his worries about the old folks. From now on, he allowed, he was confident his worries strict to what was going to happen to his own generation.

Zeke Grubb was agreed Ed was making a wise move in this plan to eliminate half his worries. He said his preacher told the congregation Sunday the great need in the world today was for people to know a little less and understand a little more.

Zeke was of the opinion this was a mighty hard assignment and he brought along some fingers to prove it. This was the first time Zeke ever brought any fingers to the Saturday night sessions and he had to borrow Ed's glasses to read 'em to the fellers.

He had a newspaper clipping where a committee of the Congress had completed a 10-month study on Government paper work. This piece said the report was 70 pages long and was one of the most "astounding documents" to come out of the Congress in 50 years.

According to this report, if one Government record was turned over second, it would take 2,000 years to destroy them.

all. It said Government paper work cost $8 billion a year and it took 15 billion copies of 300,000 Government forms to operate the Federal agencies.

Furthermore, the report said 225,000 Government workers was spending most of their work day putting documents into 25 million cubic feet of filing cabinets, that the Government spends $1.5 billion a year writing 1 billion letters, and that the Congressmen making the survey, it would save the taxpayers from $100 million to $200 million a year if they would make their letters a paragraph or two shorter.

One of the worst things they found, the report said, was they fill up 2.6 million pages a year with inter-office memos, instructions and communications, half of them not worth a copper-filled quarter.

This was a mighty long piece for Zeke to read and he got some of the words wrong but he had the fingers correct and some of the fellers, including one, was writing 'em down on paper pokes we swiped from the storekeeper. They were correct and official, Mister Editor. If you want to print 'em in your paper, it's all right for Zeke's preacher to say we need to know a little less and understand a little more, but how you going to understand this Government red tape?

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Forced Labor Plan

Another vital difference between Selective Service and the Wirtz plan is that the former only affects young men. Young women are not compelled to accept registration. The American people always have opposed the drafting of women, believing that they should not be subjected to national direction.

In Russia and Red China, however, women enjoy so much immunity. They are treated by the government simply as a labor supply. It would be a sad day in America if its young women were forced to leave their homes and their responsibilities to their families. Something precious would be lost from American life if the Wirtz plan were carried out.

Moreover, the Wirtz plan blurs the real distinction of military service. Bearing arms is not only an obligation but a privilege for young Americans. The vast majority proudly serve in the various branches of the armed services, determined to help achieve victory for their country. This is the most honorable of duty.

Joining the Job Corps, the Peace Corps or one of the "other" innumerable specialized "life" corps created by the Kennedy and Johnson administrations is not comparable to military service. Great numbers of young Americans were recently being drafted into organizations that they regarded as political characters and not directed toward truly worthy ends.

Well-informed young Americans will recall that some of the Peace Corps men in Santo Domingo, at the time of the communist threat, were sympathetic to the leftists and antagonistic to American forces that were landed.

The Job Corps and Peace Corps do not represent in the view of many Americans, true national service. These corps often are oriented in the direction of social revolution that comes close to political revolution. To force young Americans to join such organizations to betray those who feel deeply about the threat of liberalism that verges on totalitarianism.

In reading of the Wirtz plan the public may recall the plan of Nikita Khrushchev to open new agricultural areas. Nothing of that sort should be started in the United States.

Experience teaches that many of the New Frontier-Great Society programs were advertised at the beginning as being free of compulsion, in the advocacy of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Before long, however, school boards discovered that the U. S. Commissioner of Education intended to crack the whip over the heads of local school officials.

Perhaps Mr. Wirtz will try to sell his national service scheme with the promise that it won't involve compulsion. But how many Americans will believe that? Big government can't resist the temptation to coerce people. Real choice undoubtedly would disappear overnight.

Fortunately, the 90th Congress will have strong reinforcements from the conservative side. The newly elected conservatives certainly will want to direct their fire against the Wirtz plan, which, if enacted into law, would further reduce the liberty enjoyed by Americans.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMER

From Ruth E. Wood, Delaware. Whenever I remember when we lived on the farm and I was a little girl, I often thought of the night shift and, on these occasions, I would leave home about five P.M., as his only means of transportation was by horse and buggy.

One night my mother became quite ill. She had no phone so my brother, age nine, was in-lane to get up, light a lantern, and walk over a 1/2 mile to a neighbor who had a phone.

My mother was subject to pleurisy. One time when she had an attack, she asked my brother upon the "mustard plaster" to apply to her painful back. He would follow the instructions well, but mother forgot to tell him it should be peeled off a few moments before being applied to the skin. The resulting burn she received was more severe than the original illness.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

THIS SEASON

Is this the year you will make some of the "I" from the holiday that is Christmas? Indeed, Christmas is the season of joy. It is the greatest of all holidays, around the world. You need not cut down on a Holy Day, not a holiday. Through the years much has been added to the observance of Christmas.

You need not cut down on your gift giving, nor prepare a less sumptuous meal. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you.

Still, look deeper within you. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you.

Still, look deeper within you. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you. Let that feeling of friendship for all, world wide, surge within you.

You will find, perhaps, a meaning of Christmas and a Holy Day, one you shall long remember.

Faith

"We know that in everything God works for good with those who love him, who are called according to his purpose."
—Romans 8:28

As we approach the greatest of all holidays, many of us begin to feel a stronger faith arising within as our thoughts turn to the true meaning of the Christmas season.

This we know, that "God works for good with those who love him" and there is no greater example of God's love than we find in the One and Great Story of the birth and the life of Christ upon earth.

The Diocese of Miami has announced a full year's schedule of Forty Hours Devotions for 1967.

The Forty Hours Devotion or Adoration is the solemn exposition of the Blessed Sacrament for 40 hours in commemoration of the time Christ's Body lay in the tomb following His crucifixion and death on Mt. Calvary.

One of the most important and comforting devotions held in Catholic parishes and institutions every year, the Forty Hour Devotion is looked forward to by the faithful as a means of making reparation for sin and begging God's graces.

The devotion, which includes the celebration of special Masses, the holding of processions and recitation of the Litany of the Saints, was first instituted at Milan in the year 1534.

The schedule, according to Msgr. John J. Fitzpatrick, chancellor of the diocese, has been designed to insure a continuous devotion to Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament throughout the entire year.

The week of February 26 has been scheduled for St. Philip Benizi, Belle Glade.

I can see how a man can look on the earth and be an atheist; but I cannot conceive how a man can look into the heavens and not believe in God... Abe Lincoln.

Meditaciones Cristianas.

Por el Rev. Cesar M. Benitez

LA FELICIDAD:

La felicidad es muy superficial para muchos y para otros muy objetiva. Felicidad es gozo, paz, alegría.

No se encuentra en lo dulce; se encuentra en el dolor, en las dificultades. Muchas personas sufren porque no tienen dinero, no poseen el ultimo modelo de carro y eso les oprime. Muchas mujeres sufren de infelicidad porque no tienen los costosos vestidos y prendas. Otras estan muy tristes porque el esposo no las lleva al "night club." Encontramos mujeres que son muscas y hombres que lo son de barro.

No elabore tanto las cosas. Haz lo mejor que puedas. Haz tus planes, estudia, medita y luego deja el asunto en manos de Dios.

Seneca dijo: "El mas poderoso hombre es el que se mantiene en su propio poder." Otros viven la vida por ti? Eres Maestro de ti mismo? Hay que usar la fuente inagotable de la comunión con Dios. Esto hace a los hombres grandes y seguros de si mismo, existe la felicidad cuando se ama a Dios.

La felicidad no es por la cantidad de dinero que tenga ni por todas las cosas materiales que posea, sino por la actitud que poseas en el estado en que estas.

Hay una profunda lección en el Hijo de Dios naciendo en un humilde pesebre porque no habia lugar para el en el meson.

First Baptist Church Observes Week Of Prayer

Under the leadership of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, the annual Lottie Moon Week of Prayer was observed this past week.

The observance began with special messages from Reverend Elland at both morning worship and continued through Friday, December 9th, with services and special music each evening.

The theme for the week was, "Behold The Lamb Of God." Each evening the following programs were presented: Monday, "Behold Him As Healer"; Tuesday, "Behold Him As Teacher"; Wednesday, "Behold Him As Saviour"; Thursday, "Behold Him As Savior"; Friday, "Behold His Salvation."

With his wonderful talent of art, Reverend Elland decorated the sanctuary in a most impressive manner, this setting adding much to the quiet prayerful services.

The highlight of each service was featured representatives of the youth.

Approximately fifty youth participated in this week of prayer program.

May God bless all who pray for and share in the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

Rev. W. R. Boland, pastor of Community Methodist Church attended the 7th triennial convention of the National Council of Churches on Dec. 5 and 6 at the Fontainebleau Hotel on Miami Beach. Enroute he stopped over in Ft. Lauderdale for a visit with his son George Boland.

DE INTERES

EN BELLE GLADE

Los hombres y mujeres pertenecientes al servicio militar, donde quiera que se hallen, recibirán vegetales del Glades en estas Pascuas, los cuales se embarcaron ya en Diciembre 5.

Se enviaron apios, rabanos, pepinos, coles, lechuga, y otros vegetales de hoja. Fueron comidos a Sum Senter, A. Dual & Sons Lakeshore Growers, Wedgworth Farms, Chase & Co., Pioneer Growers, Greensingers, Vandegriff-Williams, W. H. Vann & Co., Hatton Brothers, y otros cosecheros.

La pasada semana fue anunciado el nuevo Packing House de Chase and Co., que comenzara a operar el pasado lunes Diciembre 12, y tiene su oficina en N. W. Ave. G, de Belle Glade, al fondo del Belle Glade Elementary School.

El Palm Beach County Blood Bank (Banco de Sangre de Palm Beach) estan cortos de dicha plasma, y el P. B. Welford Department hace un pedido a los donantes, y si hay bastante interes entre los residentes del Glades area, el móvil unit del banco de sangre sera traído a esta area.

Este problema es motivado por el infujo de miles de trabajadores migrantes que vienen en esta época.

Los cosecheros, sembradores, y operarios de packinghouse pedirán a sus obreros que hagan donaciones, si les es posible. El Correctional Institute del Glades han sido donantes de sangres consistentes cada vez que se ha presentado una emergencia.

Cualquier grupo de personas interesadas puede ponerse en contacto con el Glades Office of Glades Office Building, en Highway 441, norte de los límites de la ciudad.

En Lake Worth, el Hospital J. F. Kennedy, no puede abrir su nueva unidad de 75 camas para enfermos, debido a la escasez de enfermeros registrados que están en el presidente de la junta dice las hace falta de 40 a 50 enfermeras.

El Post Office de Belle Glade tiene un horario de servicio extra para las fiestas Pascuales. Los miercoles ya no cerraran sus oficinas, y el sábado 17 permanecerá abierto, lo mismo en Christmas y New Year, que en caso en sábado, permaneciendo abiertos hasta las 12:30 p. m.

A los residentes de Belle Glade que desean enviar pacas de regalos por Xmas se les pide los traigan al post-office, en lugar de escharlos en los buzones o darlos al portero.

A los motoristas del area del Glades y Pahokee, se les pide usar sus luces bajas al conducir cuando manejen en lluvia, neblina o humo.

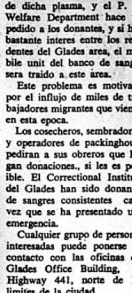

Con los campos de caña que son quemados en la zona, hay veces que el humo cruzando las carreteras, hace la visibilidad casi cero.

Y como transitan muchos camiones por esta época de zafra, en las carreteras, a todos los choferes se les urge usar el mas extremo cuidado por la noche y durante las temporadas horas de la mañana, cuando la neblina causa problemas.

Se esta proponiendo hacer nueva superficie al State Road 717 que va desde el puente de Chosen hasta el Hoover Dike del Lago Okeechobee. El contrato para reparar esta carretera se tratara en Tallahassee en Diciembre 22.

El County Commissioner E. W. Weaver, declara que tambien se proyecta reparar en carretera de dos carriles que va desde la intersección del State Road 715 hasta el puente que llega a Torry Island.

Estas dos carreteras dan acceso a varias de las atracciones turísticas de la municipalidad, tales como el golf course y country club, el area de los campos de pesca, además del Dique.

Believe it or not, our Volkswagen Karmann Ghia

Believe it or not, our Volkswagen Karmann Ghia (The Pussycat) has a lot in common with expensive sports cars.

Start with its stick shift. It has four forward gears, and to slow down you can down-shift, just like a race car driver.

Also like on many racers, each wheel has its own torsion bar suspension system. So a bump bumps only one wheel while the rest of the car sticks to the road.

Of course, if you'd rather not stick to the road, you can drive off with less chance of getting stuck, because a VW engine is in the rear. It bears down on the rear wheels, giving them extra traction in mud and snow.

A lot of people buy our Pussycat strictly for its looks.

Later they find out that it's more car than they bargained for.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK: Mr. Rasco

Mr. James Rasco, Junior class sponsor, will help with the magazine sales drive in January. He was a great help last year with the sales drive and supplied much of the enthusiasm which helped the Juniors to strive and surpass their goal.

Teacher of Shorthand, Typing and General Business, Mr. Rasco enjoys playing basketball and watching television. His favorite programs are "Family Affair" and the cartoon program "Atom Ant." His favorite food is, of all things, appleauce, which he eats at almost every meal.

Born on May 12, 1940, Mr. Rasco hails from the "great city and state" of Barlow, Kentucky, where he was born, raised, and educated. Attending Murray State College, he earned his Bachelors degree in Business Education there. He will complete his master's in Business Education at Florida Atlantic University next summer. His plans for the future are to continue his teaching career in Belle Glade.

BG Cagers Prove Their Worth

This year has been full of surprises; one of the best is this season's basketball squad. Belle Glade has rarely been known for having outstanding basketball teams, but it looks like this year is going to be an exception.

Captain Carlos Velez and co-captain Bryant Davis lead one of the finest B. G. squads ever. The other Ram cagers are Quen Wilson, Eddie Prevatt, Eddie McAllister, Terry Mann, Mark Whittemore, George Rodriguez, Andy Ballard, and Enrique Rionda.

In the opening game of the schedule, the Ram squad proved stiff competition to the Palm Beach Wildcats. It was an exciting game and the score was close throughout the game.

The high scoring Ram of the night was Eddie Prevatt with 21 points. Bryant Davis scored 18 points. The Palm Beach squad was ranked sixth in the state in a pre-season poll. The Belle Glade squad proved that it can play with the best. The spirits were high, the game good, and the fans enthused. If we can keep this combination throughout the season, this year's basketball team could be a leading contender of the Western Division Suncoast conference title.

Who Is It?

Kathy Smith — "I know those eyes. Is it Bryant?"

Cookie Drawdy — "I've seen him around before. It's Larry Norman!"

Jorge Rodriguez — "Look at that nose. It's got to be Bryant!"

Kathy Barron — "You can tell by that gun that it's Bryant."

Wendell Wells — "Looks like Wayne Prevatt."

Patricia O'Neil — "It looks like Bryant Davis, but I really don't know."

Connie Van Camp — "Looks like a Sullivan, but I think it's Bryant."

Sherri Burgess — "I don't know but isn't he cute."

Mary Leigh Amerine — "Isn't he cute? Is he from South Bay? Pat Bowen?"

Wayne Williamson — "I don't know. But it looks like he's training for Rice Pats!"

Alan Smith — "Is he a Senior? That looks like Herbert Giese."

This fine soldier is one of the better known Rams among the senior class, Bryant Davis.

Christmas Party Planned By FHA

A Christmas party will be given for the children at the Occoala Center by the Future Homemakers of America Wednesday, December 21. About 25 pre-schoolers are expected to be on hand to enjoy the events planned by the F. H. A. girls.

The party will last about two hours with games, prizes and refreshments provided. The refreshments will be furnished by the Home Economics II class. The party will be financed by a bake sale that was given Saturday, December 10, and by one planned to be given December 17, in South Bay.

The Future Homemakers feel that this will make a very merry Christmas for many little children this year.

Art Club Labors For Christmas Program

The Art Club called a meeting last week to work on decorations for the Glee Club's annual Christmas Program. The decorations will consist of imitation frozen grass covered with paint and glitter. Hanging from the left of the stage will be decorated ornaments, lighted by the colored lights on the stage.

Every meeting for the past month has been devoted to these decorations. Mrs. Fliebs met with the club and discussed the plans. It was agreed that the Glee Club would bear expenses for art work.

Don C., what's so important in Jupiter these days — You're not visiting any farms here, I hope.

Oh. We congratulate the Glee Club, we hear you've become T. V. Stars.

Sherrell C., Betty A., Linda L., Ruth C., how did your slumber party turn out? I hear you invited Wendell W. and Danny D.

Larry L., what was that loud bang in Geometry class the other day? Could it have been a gun?

Jackie P., why were you so dressed up last week? Were you planning on going to a luncheon with Mr. Ward?

Danny S., was he going into the Ladies Room the other day. He must have gotten mixed up in his directions.

Seems like a lot of people can't wait for Christmas. What is the rush all about?

S. Knight, do you always go to the beach at 2:30 in the morning? Do you always get caught at 2:30 in the morning?

Ivy Lou B., why are you and Mike LeGarde such good friends NOW — what is the sudden interest in red Corvette?

Alice C., the "Safe Driving" award for last week goes to you!

Gail D., why the sudden interest in black Corvairs?

Danny S., what happened to you at the Standard Station Sunday mornings that woman was shocked.

Some of the Seniors traveled quite a distance to see "Machete" Extra credit or cultural development?

Meet The President; Connie Van Camp, F. H. A.

This week meet the President would like to salute Connie Van Camp, president of F. H. A. Connie is a very active leader in her class, school, and community. On the side of being president of Future Homemakers of America, Connie is vice-president of Pop Club, a member of Beta Club, secretary of the Senior Class, and president of Teen Town. She has also been awarded the South Florida Dairy Council Award for the most outstanding home economics student in 1966.

Connie revealed great plans in store for F. H. A. For Christmas, the future homemakers are giving a party for needy children. To put money in the pot, the FHAers had a bake sale in Belle Glade. They also plan to have one in South Bay at Willis' on December 17. Further into the year, they will have their annual "Little Miss Belle Glade" contest.

"Con" as she is better known by some, was born in Batavia, New York, on August 22, 1949, but moved to Belle Glade when she was two years old. Those who have "always known Connie" best remember her as an outstanding Girl Scout! To keep her busy, Connie has one younger sister, Cindy, who is eight years old.

In two days, Connie will be a very happy girl. A "certain someone" will be home for the holidays from Arkansas A&M. Connie hasn't seen him since August 28.

Connie loves to sew, and makes almost all of her own clothes. Her favorite song is "I Want to be Free."

Know why Diazinon is your most useful vegetable insecticide?

You can always rely on Diazinon insecticide to provide total protection against insects at lowest possible cost . . . whether you apply it to protect above-ground crops or below-ground crops.

Diazinon not only controls a wide range of both soil and foliage insects, but it is effective against a number of insects which have become resistant to other insecticides used for vegetables.

What's more, Diazinon knocks insects out fast and for keeps by contact and residual action. Unlike systemic insecticides, Diazinon does not have to be absorbed by the plant before effective insect control begins. It goes to work as soon as you apply it.

You can use Diazinon relatively close to harvest without creating a residue problem. There's little danger of exceeding tolerances of crops harvested for fresh market or processing. Just apply Diazinon as directed on the label.

No special protective clothing or devices are required when handling and applying Diazinon. However, when using pesticides you should always read and follow label directions.

Write us for your free copy of the Diazinon Handbook. It tells you how you can protect your crop best from both soil and foliage insects with one or more of the easy-to-use, economical Diazinon formulations — wettable powder, emulsifiable liquid, and granular.

Dist. Republican Committeemen Hold Meeting In Belle Glade

The Ninth Congressional District Republican Party Committee met at the Holiday Inn at Belle Glade last week with 23 members present. Carl T. Bates chairman of the district presided.

"The purpose of the meeting," said Bates, "is to determine just what happened during the last election, why it happened and what it should mean to us. The future of our party depends upon open leadership at the community level," he continued, "and members of this kind are important to the planning and continued growth of the Republican Party."

District members attending who are also members of the State Committee were Harry Schooley Assistant Treasurer of the State Committee, Fort Myers, Mary Lou Hammond, Vice-Chairman of the State Committee from Indian River County and Bill James, State Committee Member from Palm Beach County.

Plans were made for strengthening the party organization at the precinct level and insuring consideration at the State level of local needs as determined by precinct workers.

Open discussion was the keynote of the meeting and members were hesitant to leave at the end of the two hour session.

Martin Buss arrived by plane Wednesday night from Nampa, Idaho, to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buss on Indian Mound. He is a student at Northwestern University.

Sharon Motes In FP College

Music Recital

ST. PETERSBURG — Sharon Motes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Motes of Belle Glade, junior at Florida Presbyterian College, St. Petersburg, participated in a music students recital on the FPC campus, December 7.

Miss Motes, a 1964 graduate of Belle Glade High School, performed on the piano for the semi-annual of the Florida Presbyterian applied music program. The program offers private lessons to students in voice and various instruments.

Florida Presbyterian College is a fully accredited four-year liberal arts institute now in its seventh year of operation.

"No Camping" Policy In Area To Be For Benefit Of Wildlife

WEST PALM BEACH — No camping will be permitted in a 25-mile-long area of spoil islands that are to be built for benefit of wildlife, it was ruled Friday by the Governing Board of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. Meeting at West Palm Beach, the Board discussed the excavation of a new canal in Conservation Area 3 along the route of the old Miami Canal. This channel is part of a three million dollar system of conveyance channels now under construction to move water from Palm Beach County south to the Everglades National Park for benefit of the Park. Ed Dail, Executive Director, said the Army Corps of Engineers will pile the material from the new Miami Canal in islands, which will be above water stages. These will be constructed for benefit of wildlife and will provide dry places where deer can rest during rain seasons, it was explained. The "no camping" policy was adopted after Dail said that shepherds and squatters' camps might soon be springing up on the islands and spoil areas if they are not prohibited.

It was also reported that stage 3 in Conservation Area 3 are now six-tenths of a foot below schedule at a level of 9.9 feet (above mean sea level) on December 7. This is the conservation area where deer were reported in trouble because of high water stages several months ago. In other action the Board turned down a plan to construct a boat turning basin at Nubbin Slough near the north end of Lake Okeechobee. Dail said it would cost $522,000 in additional federal, state, and local tax revenues.

Higher water stages were also authorized for benefit of local interests in canals near the northwest shore of Lake Okeechobee.

Dail said the Flood Control District has been maintaining a level of 13 feet in canals on the land side of the Herbert Hoover Dam in Glades County. Now the water stage will be hiked to 14.2 feet, if the Corps of Engineers approves.

The Board also received the FCD's ANNUAL REPORT for fiscal year 1966. It summarizes activities of the District in the past fiscal year with text, photographs, tables, and maps. Copies of the 56-page booklet are available to the public free on request to the FCD, Box 1671, West Palm Beach.

A request from Palm Beach County Commissioner E. H. "Bud" Weaver of Lake Harbor — to improve the appearance of an old boat lock and dock house in the Miami Canal at Lake Harbor — was referred to the FCD staff for investigation. Weaver said the old lock was installed about 1918 and is now unightly.

The Farm Front

By Doyle Connor

Sounds of gunfire echo throughout the woods in Florida as hunters, young and old, attempt to bag their limit of game.

Although thousands of words have been written and spoken on safety precautions to follow in handling firearms, a number of people have been shot and wounded, and several others killed this season.

Why do these things happen every hunting season? The hunter becomes too anxious, rather than too careful. He expects not only to check the target might well mean the difference between a dead bird and a dead man.

The need for safety in the woods also brings up the need for our people in rural areas to become efficient in administering first aid.

Efforts to train at least one member of every rural family in first aid procedures have been urged by the American Medical Association Council on Rural Health (AMACHR) and representatives of other national organizations.

A study of traffic fatalities revealed that people injured in rural counties were almost four times as likely to die of their injuries as those injured in urban counties. The higher case fatality ratio seems to be related to the inability to provide adequate first aid procedures and to get the person to a hospital within a reasonable period of time, according to Dr. Ben N. Saltzman, chairman of the AMACHR.

The National Safety Council reports that seven out of ten motor vehicle deaths in 1965 occurred in places classified as rural. Victims in rural areas were mostly occupants of motor vehicles, while two-fifths of the victims in urban areas were pedestrians. There were 34,000 deaths in rural areas last year and slightly over half of those (17,500) occurred in night accidents.

Estimates at this time indicate that Florida's cattle and calf marketing will establish a record this year.

Cattle slaughter for the first 10 months was three-eighths percent higher than in 1965. This is two percent less than the national market.

Florida calf slaughter is up seven percent this far, whereas the national calf slaughter is below the 1965 figure. This increase in Florida is said to result from an increase in marketing this year over 1965, plus a slackening in demand from western stocker calf buyers during the first six months of the year.

Fed cattle prices have somewhat strengthened and, although national supplies of fed beef will be larger than last year, prices are expected to make additional gains this winter because of strong consumer demand.

Bobcats Win Class A Championship The G. C. I. Chorus

The Bobcats had their last gridiron battle for the season when they went against the Oakland High Rattlers for the South Florida Class "A" Championship.

Joe Sheely scored Lake Shore's first touchdown on a 45 yard sprint (PAT) Charles Walker. An additional touchdown was made by Charles Haynes on a quarterback keep around right end. (PAT) Charles Walker. The Rattlers retaliated by scoring two touchdowns in less than one minute.

At the end of the third quarter, the scores were 12-13. In the fourth quarter, Charles Haynes made a gallant 12 yard run for Lake Shore's last touchdown. (PAT) Charles Walker. The Rattlers came back with a safety to make the final score 15-21 Bobcats.

Does It Pay...

Why didn't Lake Shore's fine running fullback, Charles Daniels make all conference team? If the coaches were judging for running ability then certainly he would have been among the selected players. Charles Daniels made eleven touchdowns and gained over 1,000 yards rushing, this season alone, and I doubt if you can find a player who plays defensive end any better.

I'm not saying that the coaches were prejudiced or anything of that sort, but I firmly believe that they really overlooked a great football player.

Felicitations to the following Lake Shore Players for making the all conference team: Charles Walker — Offensive End.

Thomas McGrady — Offensive Tackle.

Joe Sheely — Offensive Half back.

Charles Haynes — Quarterback.

Henry Singleton — Offensive Guard.
